

CONVENTION HIGHLIGHTS: The Friends of Old-Time Radio saluted many personalities of the golden age of radio last Saturday, October 7th. Present were Lee and Emerson Allman, Jo-Anne and George Ansbro and daughter, Ira Ashley, Bernice and Jackson Beck, Grace Matthews and Court Benson, Norma and Ed Blainey, Vivian Block (Marsh), Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dixon, Jack Houseknecht and his wife, the former Clair Hazel; Raymond Edward Johnson, Evie Juster, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prescott Jr., Alice Reinheart, Rosa Rio and Bill Yeomans, Carol and Lee Stanley, Blair Walliser and daughter, and Betty Wragge...All of these special guests were present throughout the day and evening. They participated in a panel discussion, socialized during the cocktail hour, presented three radio programs, and some received awards.

The convention started at 9:00 with 25 dealer and display tables including some manned by Joe Webb (Collectors Corner) and Allen Rockford and Don Richardson (Nostalgia Radio News). Chuck Seeley of the Buffalo Club and Pat McGee of SPERDVAC were also there....The movies shown were IT'S A JOKE SON; THE SHADOW AND THE MISSING LADY; HOW DO YOU DO; and THE GREAT AMERICAN BROADCAST.

The sound effects workshops run by Ed Blainey and Bob Prescott and the acting workshops run by Blair Walliser were very successful. Gary Yoggy won the Trivia quiz. Gary also led a very interesting teaching workshop. Raymond Edward Johnson then entertained us with some readings from Shakespeare. The Romance of Helen Trent was then performed with Alice Reinheart as Helen. Grace and Court played a love scene together for the first time in their careers. Bob Dixon announced. ...Grace and Court then gave a moving tribute to Bret Morrison. The new guests were then involved in a panel discussion until 5:45... Cocktails and dinner followed.

There were 195 guests for dinner with another 52 coming in the afternoon. Following dinner Bob Witte as master of ceremonies led an entertaining program. Front Page Farrell and Counterspy were both performed by all the guests. There was a bit of adlibbing between Jackson Beck and Court Benson during Counterspy due to a late entrance by Court which had the audience in laughter...Rosa Rio performed as excellent as always on the piano; Ed Blainey, Bob Prescott and Bob Prescott Jr handled the sound effects; George Ansbro was the announcer.

Seven awards were given out. The only one not present to receive it was Ralph Camargo.

A tape of the convention can be received from Joe Webb. I will let you know when the details are worked out.

The guests were very gracious in granting interviews and mingling with the people. I want to thank them again for giving of their time to be with us.

Also the committee did a wonderful job. Many thanks to Joe Webb, Stu Weiss, Julie and Larry DeSalvatore, and Carol and Bob Witte.

NEWS OF THE PAST: from Ed Carr: Ever question how far back singing commercials go? In the late 1800's a London firm offered free hymnals to a poor church in return for inserting a musical commercial in the books. The hymnals were used by the church--and so was the commercial. It went:

Hark the herald angels sing
Beecham's Pills are just the thing
Peace on Earth and mercy mild
Two for men and one for child

No. 45

DEDICATED TO THE PRESERVATION OF

MAGIC...

Craig M. Snader, Jr.

In January 1973, another magic collector's publication was born. MAGIC SOUNDS was generated as a result of an absence of any written material on the collection and preservation of the sounds of magic. Bill (NEW JINX) Madsen suggested I get in touch with Bill (MAGIC CAULDRON) Kuche and we corresponded concerning my idea of blending my two hobbies: magic and recording. The first 5 issues of MAGIC SOUNDS were photocopied, then Clarke Crandall suggested I should go commercial and sell subscriptions. After much soul searching, MAGIC SOUNDS #6 was printed and a subscription price of $2 the year was set—and maintained, despite the phenomenal double-digit inflation in Mexico!

While visiting Florida in 1973, we were introduced to Burling Hull and thus was born the idea of "Magic Sounds Releases," or interviews of magicians to be commercially released on cassettes. It was Clarke Crandall who insisted that the magician should receive an artist's fee on every tape sold. Release No. 1 was made available in May 1975 with Burling Hull as the subject.

In August 1974, as part of issue #8, we listed 256 magic-related recordings. Reader response moved us to make this listing biennial, and so in August 1976, we issued another, within which, 539 recordings and their owners were listed (we have 328 of them in our collection). Five-hundred copies were printed, 150 with a white cover for subscribers, and the balance with pink, heavier covers for dealers' retail. At present, since other pressing matters have come to the fore, we are doubtful if the third inventory will appear in 1978; however, it will definitely be issued in 1979.

In the spring of 1976, Fantasio, Monica, and Jackie were playing in Mexico City, and we were asked to make a film of their illusion show. Thus was born the first "Magic Sounds Productions"—a super-8 movie with a cassette of the original sound. In May 1977, under the editorship of Stephen A. Sparks, a column appeared in MAGIC SOUNDS #19 titled "Visual Magic," which includes both video tapes and movies. This, we feel, is a natural extension of our original concept of magical recordings.

In August 1977, MAGIC SOUNDS #20 was the first issue of any cassette periodical to be released in recorded form. The C-60 cassette is a tribute to Eddie Clever, who edited the "Hoocus Pocus Parade" in the LINKING RING—a recording in his own voice. It was sent to subscribers as part of their subscription, and retails at $8.50 for others.

Dear Craig:

I have heard your taped interview of myself and hereby authorize you to commercially release it under the name Magic Sounds. Release No. 1, under the terms we have agreed upon.

What a wonderful idea to have real voices of performers recorded for posterity. The voices and ideas of these creative performers would be lost if it were not for your efforts.

With Fraternal Best Wishes for your continued success in MAGIC AND MENTALISM,

Burling Hull

SID LORRAINE'S CHATTER

Number 20 issue of MAGIC SOUNDS is probably the first, in magic, to arrive as a cassette recording. It is a tribute to Eddie Clever, developed from taped letters of Eddie's voice. There are also the voices of Randi, Abb Dickson and others. A very interesting collector's item. Available to non-subscribers for $8.50 direct from Craig Snader, Jr.

MAGIC SOUNDS - a quarterly publication that is dedicated to the preservation and use of recorded magic - still costs only US$ 2.00 a year.

...WHAT'S AVAILABLE TO MAGICIANS...

P.O. BOX 1264, SOUTH BEND, INDIANA 46624

MAGIC SOUNDS 16 is a regular, but unusual, publication of a gentle man who is dedicated to preserving the AUDIO side of magic and magicians. His latest issue is a huge compilation of information available about magicians on tape and in other media, and is to be related by several U.S. dealers.

THE SOUNDS OF MAGIC... ISSUE TWENTY MAGIC SOUNDS ($8.50 to non-subscribers) is a sound cassette for the audio side of magic, from owner and publisher Craig M. Snader, Jr. This is a tribute to Eddie Clever, and the performance fee for the interview of him is dedicated to the E.C. Fund. Very interesting material here, and lots more, too. Even a trick on the tape!

THE MAGIC SOUNDS - P. T. BARNUM AWARD

During the past five years many people have contributed a great deal to the preservation of magical recordings. Some of these individuals have done outstanding work that should be recognized. With this in mind, the staff of MAGIC SOUNDS has decided to establish a special award.

In researching a name for this award, we returned to the first recording made by a magician. According to our search, Phineas Taylor Barnum (1810-1891) was an excellent amateur magician (see MAGIC SOUNDS, Volume I, page 19). He was the first magician to record his voice (London (?), c. 1890 (?)). Craig McComb Snader, Jr., our publisher, has a pass given to his great-grandfather, Henry Simpson McComb, by Barnum. These combined factors have motivated us to create: THE MAGIC SOUNDS - P. T. BARNUM AWARD.

This award can be presented annually to that individual, or firm, who, in the opinion of the Award Committee (the staff of MAGIC SOUNDS and the previous award winners), has done the most for the preservation of recorded magic (aural or visual). Any subscriber of MAGIC SOUNDS may, during the first nine months of each year, submit the name of a candidate to the editor who in turn will send a list of these nominees to the Award Committee members for their consideration. It is not necessary that the award be presented each year, if in the opinion of the committee no candidate is qualified.

The person, or firm, who is granted "THE MAGIC SOUNDS - P. T. BARNUM AWARD" will receive an especially created plaque in addition to an "Eternal" subscription to MAGIC SOUNDS. A negative award may be conferred from time to time.
